Work Continues On Dorm

Business Manager Walter Fredrick describes work on the new men's dormitory as "progressing well." Trucks loaded with concrete have been a common sight going and coming from the Clinton Hall construction area.

Yale Professor To Speak At Commencement May 28

Dr. Jaroslav Pelikan, Titus Street Professor of Ecclesiastical History, Yale University, will be featured speaker at commencement exercises here May 28.

Married and the father of two sons, he is an ordained minister of the Lutheran Church.

Pelikan was graduated from Concordia College, Fort Wayne, Ind., summa cum laude in 1942. He received his bachelor of divinity degree from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., in 1946, after which he was ordained into the ministry.

Receives Ph.D. In 1946

In 1946 he received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.

Honorary degrees include a D. D. from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., in 1960; Litt.D. from Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio, in 1960; and M. A. from Yale University in 1961.

Pelikan taught at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., from 1946 to 1949; Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., from 1949 to 1953; and the University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill., from 1953 to 1960.

Author Of Several Books

He is the author of "From Luther to Kierkegaard" (1950), "Fools for Christ" (1955), "Human Culture and the Holy" (1959) and "The Riddle of Roman Catholicism" (1959), which was the winner of the Abingdon Award.

"Luther the Expositor (1959), "The Shape of Death" (1961), "The Light of the World" (1962) and "Obedient Rebels" (1964) are some of his latest works.

Pelikan was co-author of "The Cross for Every Day" (1952) with Richard R. Caemmerer and "More About Luther" (1958) with Regin Prenter and Herman Preus.

He is also famed as an editor and translator. Pelikan is a contributor to symposia, journals and encyclopedias and has written introductions to several books.

Pelikan devotes much time to academic and religious societies. He is a member of the editorial board of the Library of Protestant Thought and serves on the Commission on Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches.

He is president of the National Academic Council of Valparaiso University and a director of the Foundation for Reformation Research.

Plans For Homecoming Begin To Take Shape

Plans for next fall's Homecoming started to take shape Wednesday night, when the Homecoming Central Committee met for the first time.

Dave Wegenast, a junior from Denver, Colo., heads the committee for the event, which will be held Oct. 14, 15, 16 and 17. Sophomore Larry Kussatz is assisting as financial secretary, while junior Linda Stull serves as general secretary.

Although plans for the weekend are still in the tentative stages, Wegenast said that several innovations are being considered.

Artist Series Scheduled

An Artist Series will be held in conjunction with the weekend again this year. It will be a play, "An Evening with George Bernard Shaw." There is a possibility that the social hour previously held before the banquet will be held before the Artist Series.

Wegenast also said that he hopes to set up a barbeque on Friday for the noon meal and possibly change mystery convo from Thursday to Friday, making the official Homecoming kick-off the pep march on Thursday evening.

Committee Members Named

Senior Wins Art Contest

Karen Elwood, a senior from St. Paul, Minn., was declared the winner in the Student Senate Art Contest. She won $35 for her oil painting entitled "Hope Amidst Death." It will be hung in the office of the student body president.

Contest was open to any Wartburg student who wished to submit an entry. Entries were on display in the Student Union last week.

Judges were Mrs. James Roach, Plainfield, and Dr. James E. Fritschel, Music Department.

Honors Convo Recognizes Students For Scholarships, Accomplishments

Annual honors convocation, in which students in all areas of college life are recognized for their accomplishments, was held last Thursday in the Chapel - auditorium. Scholarship winners were also announced at that time.

Pres. John W. Bachman, featured speaker for the occasion, said in his address that "honor is more than comparison. It is a sense of accomplishment."

Following the address, recognition was given to this year's student body officers. A plaque of appreciation of service was presented to Dave Hutson, retiring student body president.

New officers in student government were installed by President Bachman following the presentation. Symbols of the offices were also presented to the incoming officers at that time by the outgoing officers.

Fortress Editor Marvin Ackerman then read the dedication of this year's annual and presented the first copy to the dedicatee, President Bachman.

Winners of this year's scholarships along with recipients of other awards and honors, listed in the honors convocation booklet, were also recognized by John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty, during the program.

Henrichs Named Manager For College Radio Station

Keith Henrichs, a sophomore from Rock Falls, Ill., has been named station manager at KWAR-FM for the 1965-66 school year.

Henrichs, who has served as news director for the past two years, said that he could make no definite announcement yet on new executive staff members.

"Dave Smith will again serve as our chief engineer. That's all I can be sure of right now," Henrichs said.

He also outlined a three point program for next year. These three points include continuing the quality image of KWAR-FM as an entertainment and information media.

Working closely with the administration in presenting to the public an image of Wartburg College and playing a more active and vital role in student life at Wartburg College are other points to be stressed next year.

"I also would like to see a tralning session set up for new people who are joining us for the first time next year.

"This would enhance the quality of our work from the start of the year and probably would add to the quality of the work as the year went along," Henrichs pointed out.

He said that other new changes could also be anticipated.

Henrichs takes over the post that senior Gary Baumann has held for the past year.

Jaspers Resigns

Fred Jaspers, Wartburg basketball and tennis coach since 1961, resigned yesterday from his position here.

Jaspers reportedly is planning on entering private business.

His basketball team finished this year with an overall 12-10 record. It was 10-6 in the Iowa Conference, good enough for a third-place tie.

No announcement has been made on Jaspers' successor.

Alpha Psi Omega To Hold Banquet

Alpha Psi Omega will hold its annual recognition banquet Monday night in the Castle Room.

Included in awards to be given are best actors and supporting actors, technical awards and the Sandburg Memorial Award for service, scholarship and loyalty.

Plan For Revision Of Choral Program Will Effect Castle Singers Organization

A change in the organizational structure of the choral program involving Castle Singers will become effective next year, according to Dr. James E. Fritschel, Music Department.

A small group of about twenty will form next year's Castle Singers. This group will be highly selective and its members will have to show some ability in several areas.

Music, Drama Stressed

"Most of the programs undertaken by this group will deal with music which requires some drama or drama which requires some music," said Fritschel.

"The group will also tour, but the tours won't be done in big blocks of several days like the choir and band schedules."

A larger group of about eighty will form an oratorical chorus for which no name has yet been chosen.

This group will participate in oratorios with the symphony orchestra and perform a few large, major choral works. It will also participate with some regularity in campus worship.

2 Major Works Undertaken

Fritschel said that the group will probably do two major choral works every year, plus participating in other campus events, such as Christmas at Wartburg.

"Honnegger's 'King David' will probably be performed with the symphony orchestra sometime late next fall," he said.

New Castle Singers group will probably present the "Fantasticks" sometime next year, as well as forming the nucleus for the campus-wide spring musical. They will also present other programs throughout the season.

Fritschel added that the oratorical chorus will perhaps be open to residents of Waverly and surrounding areas for one of the productions of the year.

Tryouts will be held next fall for both groups, although present members of Castle Singers will not have to re-audition for the oratorical chorus. However, it will be necessary for everyone to try out for the smaller group.

"We hope to provide a better balanced choral program, give more students an opportunity to participate and give the college an opportunity to get something in the small group area on the road through this program," said Fritschel.

He will direct both groups and be assisted in the new Castle Singers group by John Gill, director of the Wartburg Theatre.

Herman Here Tonight

Jules Herman and his orchestra will play for tonight's spring formal. Knights Gymnasium has been transformed into an array of pillars and fountains to carry out the "Temple of Venus" theme. Dance will start at 9 p.m.

Tradition Adds Special Something

Tradition is an integral part of any college campus. Wartburg College is no exception. Thinking back through the year and years, one remembers events such as Squire Days, the knight leading the Homecoming parade and Christmas at Wartburg. All of these typify Wartburg College.

It is not the day or the happening itself which we give a special place in our memories. It is, instead, the traditional moods and sentiments carried with the events. They are what make Wartburg College special and unique.

Seniors, especially, at this time of the year feel this sense of inheriting and acquiring a certain something from Wartburg College. They are looking forward to graduation as a climax and highlight to their four years.

Graduation marks the end of the Wartburg way of life for them. It is the end of a college experience.

This year, though, graduation will not be in the traditional Wartburg spirit. There will be no loyalty song, no senior pledge, and several other changes will be made. The customs Wartburg has carried through the years are being laid aside in order to shorten graduation exercises.

However, the majority of seniors do not agree with these plans. The loyalty song, the senior pledge and "Pomp and Circumstance" are a part of Wartburg College that is too significant to be left out and forgotten. They symbolize and represent what Wartburg stands for and deepen feelings to Alma Mater Wartburg College.

Holding on to these inherited practices strengthens progress. Rather, it deepens one of the foundations Wartburg College is built on. And that foundation is tradition.

Graduation: a ceremony in which seniors are formally presented with a receipt for four years of faithful paying.

Play: what students do instead of study.
Pray: what students do after they play.

Folkerts' Folly

Columnist Sings Swan Song

By JIM FOLKERTS

Since this is the last week that I will have the opportunity to test my literary talents on my fellow Wartburgers, -- so what! I can tell no one is impressed thus far, so why try to think of a way to end that silly sentence.

I suppose I should become nostalgic and bring up the unpleasant memories of past years. Seriously my four years at Wartburg have really been rewarding.

First of all, I received an award for changing from a skinny lad to a muscular Hercules with impressive stomach muscles. I was also rewarded for remaining a hair-god for four years. They said it couldn't be done.

My greatest reward finally came in my senior year. I finally received an Oppie card. As I trembled my way into the office of inhuman tortures, I learned that the Homecoming buttons had arrived and that was the reason I had been beckoned.

Even though one may argue that Wartburg and Wartburg students are stereotyped, each and every one will have special memories. I have mine from the very beginnings of my collegiate career.

First, there were Squire Days. Many things come to mind, but I like to remember best, the day it ended on Outfly -- the day I got my very first kiss, other than from my mother, of course. Like many Wartburg girls, this honey really knew how to move.

Of course, I was really taken aback, and I refused to share any more of my crackerjacks with her, for fear she would end up with the prize.

That year was the year for studying, too. I can remember the second semester I went up a full grade point over the ever common poor first semester. For a reward for my endeavors and my 1.06, I received a brand new subscription to Playground Activities.

This was bad because I had to spend another year hiding each magazine from my roommate, who was always looking for a new suggestion to use on his playmates of the month, thus neglecting his studies, not to mention his roommate.

My junior year, when I became mature, my housemother allowed me to go to parties. This was bad because I had to hide in a show to escape Sheriff Shinn's raiding party.

That was the year when I also enjoyed my classes the most. I learned how to cut, and then become friends with Miss Nurse. Even though I had a lot of sick leave that year, I honestly didn't feel well many times, mostly because the threat of overcuts was really overbearing.

One class was interesting, though, because of the 12 hours of lab we had a week. It was Show and Tell 302, really an educational course, necessary for those who attend a Christian liberal arts college.

My senior year has been characterized by a need for companionship, since I flunked Show and Tell. The dean said I could graduate if I got hours in on the side. Time was cut short, however, by the late spring.

Living in an off-campus house the last two years has also been enjoyable. The neighborhood kids are always around to play with, but I send them home when they start breaking toys.

I'll never forget my poor Captain Jet space goggles which were stolen by some neighboring delinquent. Living off-campus one can also enjoy playing war with rival houses.

Oh yes, many things are left to remember. Most important is the education I hope I received, but also included are the people and friends from Wartburg. I'll also remember the fun I had playing on the Trumpet staff. It really was an enjoyable experience.

I wish Miss Stull and Mr. McCabe the best of luck next year. I'm sure they will provide you with an outstanding humor column.

Distribution Of Castle Starts Today

The Castle, literary magazine, has arrived and may be picked up today and Monday in the Student Memorial Union, according to Barbara Bose, Castle editor.

Winning entries in the prose division are selections by Darlene Wesenberg, senior; Victoria Van Slyke; and William Glitz, junior.

Top honors in the poetry division went to Miss Wesenberg; Barbara Dobron and Linda Morse, sophomores; and Martha Farlow, junior.

Miss Morse and sophomore Ruth Pirsig received honorable mention for poetry selections.

The Castle also includes illustrations and art work.

Serving on the Castle staff this year were Miss Bose, editor; junior, Barb Nelson, associate editor; and senior Karen Elwood, art editor. Dr. P. A. Kildahl, English Department, is advisor for the publication.

And The Band Plays On . . .

Chuck Ciorba, junior, directs a concert presented by the Wartburg College Band last Wednesday evening. Selections were played from the current movie hit, "Mary Poppins," along with other light music and marches.

Trackmen Swamp Simpson; In Conference Meet Today

Wartburg let Simpson run on the Knight oval Tuesday afternoon, only to run them right back off. Knights, in their only track win so far this season, scalped the Redmen 98-34 in the last home meet of the season.

Despite a calm day in the low 80's, no records were touched. This was quite a switch compared to a little over a week ago when two marks were shattered.

Last Saturday, however, Jon Thieman wrote a new time in the books for the half-mile run. He set the 1:57.6 record at Rock Island, Ill., during the Viking Olympics at Augustana. Knights finished a team third in the contest.

Thieman Takes 2 Firsts

Back home on Tuesday, Thieman proved that his record wasn't just an accident as he accounted for two of the Knights' 11 firsts.

He showed up leading the pack in the mile and the 880-yard run. His mile time was 4:39.4, while the 880 registered at 1:59.7.

Laird Yock, who recently set a new mark in the high jump at 6' 2 3/4", managed only 5' 10" against Simpson but it was enough for a win. Joel Niemann grabbed second, and Lowell Syverson stole the last point from the Redmen for a sweep in that event.

Sweep In Javelin

Only other sweep in the dual contest came in the javelin. Again, it was the Knights on top, led by Jerry Zehr with a toss of 156' 0". Jim Woessner snatched the second spot while Rick Hauck cleaned up for third.

Other field events showed Woessner winning the discus with a toss of 131' 11 1/2". Mike Peich placed second in that event but won one of his own.

A toss of 43' 3 1/2" proved to be enough for him to win the shot. Tom Karrow figured in the shot with a third place finish.

Syverson Takes Broad Jump

Knights also went one - two in the pole vault and the broad jump. Lowell Syverson, Wartburg's triple jump record - holder, figured first in the broad jump with a leap of 20' 4", while Bill Weiblen took second in that event.

Pole vault finals showed Jim Fliehler on top with a height of 12' 0" and Jerry Zehr, second. Freshman vaulter Kurt Weiland is out of action with an ankle injury.

Knight firsts went to Harold Shudlick in the 440-yard dash with a winning time of :51.4. Jack Fistler raced over the 220 low hurdles in :25.2, while Tom Baumgarten paced the two-mile run in 10:05.0.

Seconds were to Gary Williams, 440 - yard dash; Fistler, 100- and 220-yard dash; Galen Fick in the two mile; Dwight Heins, mile; Zehr, 220 lows, and Shudlick in the 120 high hurdles.

Other thirds were Jerry Bishop, 100-yard dash; Jim Reents, 880 - yard run; Gary Williams, 220-yard dash; and Joel Niemann in the 120 lows.

Knights are at Decorah this weekend running in the Iowa Conference Outdoor.

Becker's Blunders

Hitting, Defense Are Assets

By MIKE BECKER

In looking over this baseball season it certainly seems a good thing that we have such a good hitting team and are so strong defensively, since our pitching isn't much.

With a healthy team batting average of .192 after last Saturday's twin loss, we still have one or two of our regulars hitting .300 or better. Of course, our sure - fingered defense more than makes up for it with a flawless .927 fielding average, committing only 18 errors in seven games.

It seems that to get on base all one has to do is hit the ball. This doesn't count the mental errors which number more than the actual errors.

Becker

Defensively the lone bright spots have been the play of shortstop Rog Kittleson, brilliant yet erratic, and second baseman Dennis Saltzmann, along with several nice catches by outfielder Arlyn Ristau.

I can't understand why several of the slowest fellows on our team are consistently placed in the outfield, which is a surefire method of allowing the opposition to reach the base paths.

Our pitching, while certainly not exceptional, is about the only fairly strong point. The top moundsman is never the same because pitchers are constantly being shifted. Looking especially good in the last week have been Lynn Butterbrodt and Doyle Burn. They have both pitched well in consecutive appearances, which is indeed unusual this year.

Roger Baumgardner, "Nails" Walters and John Hearn all have really good days and are the opposite on their bad days. Terry Fairchild, who was looked on at the beginning of the season as the number one hurler, has started showing his stuff and could be a real help in our final big pennant push.

The over-abundance of mental errors by the players and the sometimes questionable substitutions by the coaches leave a combination to wonder about. It seems that striking out or swinging at a curve ball or anything like that is a hanging offense to be punished by immediate removal from the game, which shouldn't be.

Tracksters have shown fine balance in recent weeks against competition among the toughest in the small college ranks. With the conference meet coming up several things could be hurting us, especially the loss of pole vaulter Kurt Weiland and the injury prone legs of Lowell Syverson and Jerry Zehr.

Mr. Zehr is one man who deserves the lion's share of the credit on our track team. In our last dual meet, Jerry competed in the javelin, pole vault, broad jump, 220 yard low hurdles and the mile relay with a fine performance in each of them.

Two very pleasant surprises this year have been jumper Laird Yock and runner John Thieman. Both have broken school records in their specialties, Yock in the high jump and Thieman in the half mile.

P. S. The baseball game?? with ~~Iowa~~ Iowa Wesleyan Wednesday was not counted in the statistics.

Tennis Tourney Sees Wartburg In 3rd Position

Central and Luther are leading the Iowa Conference tennis tournament, going into today's final round with 28 points, while Wartburg is in 3rd place with 18.

Playing in the number one singles spot, John Thalacker was able to get to the consolation finals where he bowed out with a total of two points.

Jack Wendt, playing in the number two position, and Doug Langholz, playing in the number three position, were both consolation finalist winners to give Wartburg 12 additional points.

Palmer Clements was a first round loser, but managed to fight back in the consolation series to gain four points.

Thalacker and Wendt were defeated in the first round of the doubles set, but Clements and Langholz won to advance to the finals held today.

Hebron Takes Softball Spot

Captain Sue Stueber received the award for Hebron's softball team Wednesday night at the Women's Recreation Association banquet. The Hebron team placed first in WRA's softball tournament.

Dr. Elinor Crawford, associate professor of physical education at State College of Iowa, spoke on the topic of "Recreation for College Women." Her main point was that preparation must be made for the future.

I-M Winners Boast Perfect Record

Grossmann 1 - Basement took the first game of the play - off series in I - M softball from Vollmer - Off - campus Thursday night. Final score in the contest was 8 - 5 in the seven inning contest.

Both the teams boast identical 5 - 0 seasons to qualify themselves for this championship series. The play - off consists of a best two out of three competition. Second game is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m., and the final confrontation, if needed, will be arranged at the convenience of both teams.

Grossmann's big break in the game came in the bottom of the sixth inning when they loaded the bases with no outs. Before Vollmer-Off-campus recovered, four runs had crossed the plate to account for half of their eight points.

Vollmer - Off campus was plagued throughout the evening by a rash of errors. Grossmann scored their first two runs on errors and one of the tallies in the sixth inning crossed on a fielding mistake. Most of the Vollmer - Off - campus scores came on well placed hits in short center field.

Only home run of the meeting was in the top of the seventh by Brian Kruger's long smash down the left field line.

Final results for the season were as follows:

Grossmann 1 - Basement	5-0
Vollmer - Off - campus	5-0
North Hall	4-1
Married Men	4-1
Grossmann III	3-2
Clinton I	3-2
Grossmann II	2-3
Clinton II	2-3
Cotta-Clinton Basement	1-4
Clinton III	1-4
Off-campus	0-5
Alpha-Ketha	0-5

Intramural track meet is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. Field events will commence at 3 p.m., and running competition will start at 3:30. All interested students are invited to participate, according to I - M co-chairman Gerald Baldner.

Knights Play Simpson, Try For First Loop Win

By BILL GLITZ

Coach Earnest Oppermann will try to lead his baseball Knights out of obscurity in the Iowa Conference race today when Wartburg takes on Simpson in a doubleheader at Indianola. The two games will be the last conference affairs for the Knights this season.

Wartburg now has an 0-6 conference record after dropping a twinbill to Luther on Tuesday. Scores were 3-2 and 8-0.

Lynn Butterbrodt pitched a commendable game for the Knights in the first contest. He gave up only five hits and went the route for the first time this year.

In the second game John Hearn started and could not finish out the first inning, as Luther jumped on him for six runs. Alex Rowell, Luther's outstanding freshman, pounded out two home runs in the second game.

Knights played incompetent baseball for one inning, while Iowa Wesleyan did the same for an entire ballgame Wednesday as Wartburg walked away with a 25-10 decision.

Each team scored eight runs in the first inning. Wesleyan then went ahead with one run in the third, but the Knights hit the Tigers with seven runs in the bottom of the third, and the rout was on.

Denny Bowman was the winning pitcher for Wartburg. Bowman relieved Bob Bunting in the third inning and completed the game. Bunting was brought on in the first inning to relieve Doyle Burn, who was the Knights' starter.

The game was called in the last of the seventh inning for obvious reasons indicated by the score.

Carl Hegemann, who was the homeplate umpire, said after the game, "I've been umpiring college baseball for over twenty years, and I've never seen anything like that first inning."

Wartburg will close its season against SCI Tuesday afternoon at Cedar Falls.

New Instructor Will Join Faculty Of P.E. Department

Hal Walters, originally from Bettendorf, will join Wartburg's Physical Education Department, next fall, Dr. J. O. Chellevold, dean of faculty, announced this week.

Walters attended Coe College, Cedar Rapids. While there he lettered in football as a half back, and in wrestling for two years. Receiving his B.A. from the State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls, Walters attended, and earned his M. S. at Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb.

Walters has taught on the college and high school level. He was assistant freshman coach at SCI from 1961-62.

During the past year he served as head freshman coach, head tennis coach, assistant wrestling coach and as assistant in the physical education department at Wayne State. He has also taught at Jefferson High School in Cedar Rapids.

Walters

Walters is married and has one child.

Frosh Gets New Award

Freshman Carol Anderson is the recipient of an award being given for the first time this year to the student showing best achievement and promise in introductory biology or zoology courses.

Given by Tri-Beta, national biology honorary society, part of the award will be a year's subscription to "Scientific American."

According to Jim Gronewold, Tri-Beta president, the award will be given annually by the organization. Final selection of the recipient is left to the biology faculty.

Human Relations Association Begins Work With Election

Human Relations Association of Waverly began working on future plans and projects last week with the election of officers for the association's coordinating committee.

On Thursday the committee met to set up a structure for work and action committees within the association, to plan a community - wide membership campaign and to formulate plans for initial activity through the summer months.

Officers and members of the coordinating committee include: Don Huston, chairman; Mrs. John Bachman, vice - chairman; Robert Gremmels, secretary; Jim Fuchs, treasurer; Rev. Melvin Miller, Rev. Glen Gronlund and Jerry McNamara, committee members.

In April the Human Relations Association was organized with representation from the business and professional community, Wartburg College's faculty and student body and the churches of Waverly.

Purposes of the organization are to seek to promote better understanding among the people of the community, to explore and consider activity in areas where misunderstanding may exist or be developing and to further develop those programs and areas where human relations are best promoted.
